Treasures to Discover Together

The name and love that his mum left marked in his heart is Sammy's great treasure. Yet, it is not his only treasure; he has others as well. One of these is sharing moments with his family, who know him and love him. Together, they share many things. The thing is that sometimes it takes time to get back to doing nice things together again. So, Sammy came up with the idea that each family member could write down simple things that they would like to do together and put them in a jar. Everybody is excited to know what the papers in the jar will say.

From time to time, especially when someone needs to lift their spirits a bit, the family gather and pull one of the pieces of paper. Sammy loves these shared moments and treasures them in his heart.

Some ideas for the treasure jar:

- Make a jigsaw
- Kick a football
- Watch a movie together
- Have a tickle attack
- Four kisses each
- Play hide and seek
- Cook something tasty
- Go for a walk
- Pillow fight
- Read a story
- Dance together
- Play a board game
- Photoshoot
- Go for an ice cream / coffee / cake
- Karaoke / sing songs
- Wheelbarrow race
- Play a game on the computer / TV / Tablet together
- Bear hug

- Pretend to be animals
- A treasure hunt around the house
- Draw / colour together
- Picnic on the floor
- Celebrate the birthday of a stuffed animal
- Joke contest
- Play drama class (or some skill that someone has and they can pretend to be the teacher)
- Charades
- Take a Youtube gym class together
- Create an obstacle course at home
- Reverse role playing (the adults pretend they are the children and viceversa)

- Going for a walk and not coming back until someone has seen a black dog, a white dog and a cat

- Dress up for dinner night

- A trip to the movies / to games / to ride a bike

www.sammyfoundatreasure.com